Aloha to our Warrior Football Ohana,

We are genuinely excited about the upcoming 2023 season. Our program underwent progressive changes a year ago, while our student-athletes gave our state everything they could to make us competitive. We're proud of the work we've done, but it's only the start.

The Run-N-Shoot is officially back! The BRADDAHHOOD is dedicated to a brand of football we all know and appreciate, and I want to be the first to confirm everyone's hopes.

In 2022 we implemented elements of the offense that made us successful during my time behind center, and we saw results. During the off-season, we ultimately made the change to the Run-N-Shoot philosophy to our scheme and mentality, giving us our identity back. You will see the progress of our quarterback Brayden Schager, and the growth of our wide receiving core in Jonah Panoke, Nick Cenacle, Jalen Walthall, Tamatoa Mokiao-Atimalala, Alex Perry, and Chuuky Hines. At the same time, we'll capitalize on the explosive play-making ability of Tylan Hines and key additions. I'm excited about what we can do with the Run N Shoot play calling with this group of student-athletes.

Defensively you'll see an attacking and relentless style you'll be proud of while our opponents fear it. You saw the tenacity of Logan Taylor a year ago, and he's back to set the tone alongside Isiah Tufaga at linebacker. Virdel Edwards Jr., Matagi Thompson, and Peter Manuma return to anchor our secondary, while captain Jonah Kahahawai-Welch leads upfront.

We are focused on winning football and will work continuously to bring it back to our beloved islands, but we need you there at all seven home games this season, beginning on Friday, September 1st, against Stanford. Our schedule includes Albany, New Mexico State, San Diego State, San Jose State, Air Force, and Colorado State. All challenging, but with you in the stands at the Clarence T.C. Ching Complex supporting the BRADDAHHOOD. We have a young but exciting group ready to take advantage of all the opportunities they get.
